When you have finished writing, think about all these wonderful things about you and put these messages somewhere special you can revisit to remind yourself who you are from time to time.

My Strength Shield-

Fill this shield with ideas of things that help you to feel stronger and happier. These could include; people who are helpful, activities you like doing or objects that help you to feel good.

A Helping Hand-

Identify five people, one for each finger and thumb, who you can go to if you need to talk to someone about your feelings. Colour the hand in and make it something you remember.

A Letter to Someone-

You might want to write your feelings down and share this letter with someone you trust.

Dear,

Remember When-

Draw a picture or write a story about a time when you felt, happy, excited or proud.

A large, empty rectangular box with a blue border, intended for drawing or writing. The box is positioned in the lower half of the page and is completely blank.

I'm a Star because-

Nobody is great at everything, but everybody is great at something. Fill this star with things that you are good at, things you like about yourself or things that other people like about you.

You could even ask someone else why they think you are a star.

My Calm Place-

Draw your imaginary calm place, it can be somewhere real or completely made up. It is a place you can go to in your imagination if you need to try and calm yourself down.

5,4,3,2,1 Relaxation-

Practice using your five senses and the things around you to help you to refocus and calm down. You can do this anywhere.

5 things I can see:

4 things I can feel:

3 things I can hear:

2 things I can smell:

1 thing I can taste:

Floating Clouds-

If you are feeling angry, worried or upset, write your feelings in these clouds to help them float away.

Calm Colouring-

Grab some pencils and do some colouring to help manage difficult feelings.

Calm Breathing-

Pretend your stomach is a balloon. When you breath in through your nose make the balloon inflate and when your breath out through your mouth make the balloon deflate. Keep practising to help calm yourself down.

Problem Solving Pyramid-

Try using this pyramid to think about what you can do to solve a problem which is making you feel bad.

Remember- the problem is smaller than the solutions.

Positive Thinking-

When you are worried, angry or upset, try thinking how you can change your negative thoughts into positive ones.

 Negative thought:	Positive thought:
 Negative thought:	Positive thought:

My Happy Tree-

Think about the things that make you smile. Write or draw them all over your happy tree. The leaves are where you can put things you do and the trunk is where you can put things that other people do.

Dear Future Me-

Write a letter to your future self so that it can remind you of the things you can do to help when you are feeling angry, worried or upset.

Dear,

My Promise-

Being kind to yourself is really important.

Fill this heart with things you can do be kind to yourself when you need picking up.

I will be kind to myself by...

My Friendship Promise-

Being kind to other people is really important.

Think about what makes you a good friend and write down your friendship promise.

I will be a good friend by...

I'm a Giraffe-

Imagine you are a giraffe with the longest neck. What would things look like if you could see above the problem?

Doodle Pad-

Use this page to distract yourself and doodle whatever you fancy.
